PONTOTOC COUNTY GIRL TAKES OWN LIFE FOLLOWING SCANDAL

Virginia Lloyd of Stonewall is the Victim of Love Triangle Involving State Legislator; Funeral this Afternoon at Francis; She Contended Lawmaker promised to Marry Her—Landlady Makes Statement.

(By the Associated Press)
OKLAHOMA CITY, May 23.—The body of Virginia Lloyd, 20, who died yesterday of bullet wounds, said to have been self-inflicted, was sent last night to Francis, Oklahoma, for burial. Miss Lloyd, according to Mrs. F. B. Moriarty, her landlady, shot herself in her room here. The shooting followed a tiffing of a theft charge against J. Q. Denny, state representative from Guymon, and a counter move by Denny, who formerly charged her with threatening to kill him and carrying a gun. According to Mrs. Moriarty, Miss Lloyd told her she and Denny were to have been married June 1 and that the trouble between them arose when she learned Friday that Denny was married.

Mrs. Moriarty, according to the police, said that Denny and Miss Lloyd had occupied an apartment in her home during the regular session of the legislature and had led her to believe that they were married. She said she knew Miss Lloyd as Mrs. Denny and did not learn otherwise until the girl made a confession Saturday.

Miss Lloyd told a newspaper reporter Saturday night that she met Denny's wife at the capitol Friday and learned that Denny was not single.

Funeral at Francis
FRANCIS, Okla., May 23.—Special.—The body of Miss Virginia Lloyd, who took her own life at Oklahoma City Sunday morning, reached Francis today. Funeral services were to be held in the Methodist church at 4 o'clock and interment was to take place immediately afterwards in the Francis Cemetery.

Miss Lloyd was not well known here, as she did not live in Francis. She was a sister of Mrs. Myrtle Pollock, who formerly edited the Francis Wigwam, and visited in Francis from time to time. The fact that some of her relatives were buried here explains why the body was brought here for interment.

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 23.—Representative Denny failed to appear in police court today to answer the charge of theft lodged against him by Miss Virginia Lloyd and his bond of $20 was forfeited. Police said Denny left Saturday afternoon for his home in Guymon.

Police Make Many Arrests Over Week-End Mayor Reports

This is according to a statement made by the mayor at noon today.

The 23 arrests made were men who were charged with fighting, unlawful possession of liquor and drunkenness. The fines given ranged from $8.75 to $24.75 and several of the cases will be tried this afternoon at 4 o'clock. Several of the men arrested by city officers were put in the county jail, as the city jail was filled and could not care for all.

Mobs during the night smashed windows for hours and this morning all business establishments were closed.

Before the arrival of soldiers this morning, Europeans had gathered in the government offices and demanded protection.

HARDING SAYS SOUND BUSINESS ONLY BASIS

(By the Associated Press)
NEW YORK, May 23.—The administration's purpose to place the federal government on a sound business basis, even at the cost of offending a "certain class of politicians," was reaffirmed by President Harding today in an address here at the luncheon of the academy of political science.

The task, the president declared, already had shown that to be successfully completed, it would require "persistent, determined, stony hearted devotion to the public interest, without a trace of sympathy for the office holder whose only excuse for drawing a salary is that he needs the money."

MANY OLD TIMERS ARE ENTERED IN THE NEW LINEUP

(By the Associated Press)
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 23.—Seventeen of the thirty-two drivers who participated in the annual 500 mile race at the Indianapolis Speedway last year have entered the 1921 event, according to T. E. Meyers, general manager and secretary of the organization. The contest will be held May 30.

Thirty-two drivers will be permitted to start with racing cars of 183 cubic inch piston displacement or under. Candidates for entrance must drive their machines at a rate of 85 miles an hour for ten miles. The final time trials will be held two or three days before the day of the contest.

Active preparations for the race began about May 10, Mr. Meyers said. Numerous drivers are reported on their way to Indianapolis among them Dario Resta, the Italian star, and Jules Goux, the French pilot. The foreigners have been developing new machines for the race.

Jules Ellingboe, who for several years, has been driving on dirt tracks, was the first entrant to begin active work for the race. He arrived in Indianapolis a little after the middle of April and has been at the speedway since.

Arthur Chevrolet, who designed the winning car last year which was driven by a brother, the late Gaston Chevrolet, will have a number of new mounts in the event. He has been working on a eight cylinder motor. The winner in 1920 drove a four cylinder Indianapolis made machine. Chevrolet designed eight of the cars in the 1920 race.

Several winners of previous 500 mile contests have entered. They include Howard Wilcox, winner in 1919; Goux, 1913 leader; Resta, who led in 1916, and Thomas, the 1914 pace setter. The race is for a purse of $85,000.

GERMANS FULLY ARMED IS REPORT

Newspaper Correspondent Says Huns Concentrating Forces.

(By the Associated Press)
LONDON, May 23.—The correspondent of the London Times in Opole, reporting German "irregular" military operations in Upper Silesia, declared that Germany has been concentrating forces and making preparations in the area for a fortnight. Indications, the dispatch said, point to a determined effort to recover possession of Upper Silesia from the Poles.

The movement is regarded by the Times correspondent as far more serious than a mere reaction. The inter-allied commission was unable to prevent the outbreak of fighting and is now just as powerless to intervene.

Apparently the Germans have regular army reserves at their disposal.

The Polish insurgents, according to the dispatch, have been steadily consolidating their position and extending their control over the industrial districts of Silesia.

They are reported to have succeeded in starting work again in mines, foundries and factories and are now squeezing the allied authorities out of the towns, they still occupy, to complete their hold on the railroad, between Katowitz and Gleiwitz.

Every source of pressure is being employed to compel the surrender of the two important towns. No food is being allowed.

Third Victory Won by Ada Ball Club in Fast Game Sunday

Ada baseball fans were given their best opportunity to see a fast and interesting game Sunday afternoon at the Fair Grounds park when the local club defeated the Konawa team in a ten-inning game by a score of 3 to 2.

The Konawa team took the lead by scoring in the first inning. They played a good game and scored again in the third. However, from this time on the local boys tightened down and did not allow another score for the opponents. The Konawa hurler was too much for the Ada hitters, until in the seventh.

The remaining part of the game was a pitcher's battle and few hits were made. With the score 2 to 1 at the end of the first of the ninth, it looked as though the Konawa team had scored another victory. The locals were more determined to win and entered the game with a new zeal. They were rewarded as a score was made at the last minute, tying the score and making it necessary to play another inning.

In the tenth the Konawa team allowed the Ada boys to score again and win the game. Williams, the recruit pitcher, delivering the hit which won the game.

NEW YORK, May 23.—"It must not be again."

With these solemn words President Harding today laid a wreath on the coffin of the first American soldier to die on German soil, at a funeral ceremony for five thousand war dead at the army piers in Hoboken.

His voice husky and his eyes brimmed with tears, the president gazed at the rows of coffins, then he said:

"One hundred thousand sorrows are touching my heart. It must not be again. God grant that it will not be."

The president arrived from Washington on the presidential yacht Mayflower and landed at West 96th street at 9:50, to face a day's program that will leave him scarcely a minute for rest.

Saluted by all manner of craft, as the Mayflower steamed up the Hudson to her anchorage in the center of the great line of destroyers that arrived here last week from the south, President Harding received another salute of 21 guns as he put off in the yacht's barge for the naval landing stage.

Amid a continuous booming of guns the swift little craft darted with the presidential party toward the New York shore, where thousands of persons were massed along Riverside drive to greet the nation's chief executive.

On the dock were hundreds of blue jackets and police, surrounding the motor cars assembled there for the party.

Willing To Die.
"I would not wish for a nation for which men are not willing to fight, and if need be die, but I do wish for a nation where it is not necessary to ask for that sacrifice," continued the president. "I do not pretend that millennial days have come but I can believe the possibility of a nation's being so righteous as never to make war of conquest, and a nation so powerful in righteousness that none will dare invoke her wrath. I wish for us some such an America."

Then in the great army shed on the shores of the Hudson with stark whitewashed walls, there fell a silence, profound and deep. Mrs. Harding could be seen weeping softly. The president continued:

"The republic will never forget the sacrifices men have made—whether they lie in the soil of the homeland or the crimson soil of the battlefield."

When the president had finished his brief speech he stepped forward in front of the coffin that had been selected to symbolize the army dead, and laid upon it a wreath of roses and orchids. In placing the wreath, he said:

No Hatred
"In the name of the republic I bestow this tribute on the casket of the first soldier who perished on the soil of the enemy. This opportunity is not chosen to express the suggestion of hatred in the American heart, for there is no hatred in the American heart, but I have chosen it because I am offering the tribute to one returned whose death on enemy soil marked the day when our civilization went face forward and the assault of our present day civilization knew it had failed."

May 24, 1918 is the date in which this soldier was killed and the name is that of Joseph W. Guyton, company "I" of the 126 infantry, a resident, patriot and hero of the state of Michigan, of the United States of America."

There was another moment of silence. It was as if the great piers, bustling with life as men went forth to death, had been turned into tomb after the return of those who had survived.

Preceded by a military guard, garbed as for the battle field, the president and Mrs. Harding entered the great hall of the dead.

With heads bowed they trod softly down the whitewashed wall shed Blair, with the right, coffins to the left and coffins ahead as far as the eye could reach, each draped with an American flag. Finally the party passed into the one section holding, itself, nearly one thousand bodies. It was in this section that the ceremony took place.

Addressed Scientists
After the ceremony the president, accompanied by Mrs. Harding, several senators and their wives, and army officials of high rank, returned to Manhattan where he was scheduled to address the Academy of political science at its luncheon in the Hotel Astor and later at Brooklyn this afternoon.

GOOD BYE, AND GOOD LUCK

As was stated in Saturday's paper, and again today, I and my associates have sold to Wm. Dee Little and associates our stock in the News Publishing and Printing company, publishers of the Evening and Weekly News. My connection with the establishment was severed Saturday and the new management is now in charge.

When I assumed the management of the institution two years ago, I thought my connection would be permanent, but I failed to reckon with my physical condition. My health has become such within the past few months that I realize that I must make a change or suffer the worst, and it is only in the hope of saving my life that I give up the business.

My relations with the public in general and the business men of the city of Ada have been most amicable during my connection with the News, and it is with much regret that I make the change and take the step that I have taken. I have endeavored to give the city the best newspaper the patronage would warrant and I leave it to them to determine whether I have succeeded.

I know Mr. Little, have been associated with him in business, and I know that the business will not suffer from the change. Thanking my friends one and all for their patronage and friendship in the past, and soliciting a continuation of the same in behalf of the new management, I beg to remain, an Ada well wisher always.

MARVIN BROWN.

PERSONAL REMARKS

In assuming the position as editor and manager of the Ada Evening News and Ada Weekly News, I appreciate the giant task that lies ahead. The directing of newspapers of the size and importance of the News publications is no small undertaking. But I have returned to the business to put my life into it, and solicit the good wishes and co-operation of the citizens of the town and county.

That there is a great future for this section of the state no intelligent man will deny. To make the News publications what I want them to be, it will be necessary to boost for a larger city, a more densely populated county and a more prosperous rural and urban people. The News will ever be found battling for what is deemed to be best for both city and county.

The editorial staff has no misconceptions of what it can or cannot do. An effort will be made to give a clean, virile, and newsy publications which will interpret public sentiment. Of course, if the time comes when it is necessary to speak plain, plain speaking will be the rule. The News will not knock, however, and all criticism will be constructive and not destructive.

Mr. Brown, retiring editor, has not announced his plans for the future. The good wishes of the present management and of the citizens of the town will go with him and his family, whether they remain in the newspaper game or not.

WM. DEE LITTLE.

THE OIL OUTLOOK

That Ada is to be an oil town, there seems to be little doubt. Whether the well near Bebee will be a 100-barrel well or a 300-barrel well is not so important as the fact that it is a well and is but the forerunner of great developments. Already the town of Starritt is growing and in a short time will probably assume the proportions of a ragtown.

Millions of dollars have been spent in the hunt for oil in Pontotoc county. The returns from the various oil and gas fields have been large, but not nearly what those in search for the liquid gold want. The realization of their dreams, however seems not far away, and the opening of a great oil pool seems as nearly assured as such things can be assured.

There are many visitors in the city now and hundreds more will come from time to time. The future of Ada can be materially brightened by the attitude the citizens show towards these visitors. We should remember that oil is not the only thing that will build a city, and that we want manufacturing plants, whole sale houses and more farmers.

A great gas field is at our doors, ready and willing to supply fuel to hundreds of industries. While we are going after oil and expecting to reap the rewards of the hidden wealth, we should remember that great wealth can be made by turning raw materials into the finished product. Let us all get behind the Chamber of Commerce for more wealth producing institutions, and behind the various civic organizations to keep Ada the best town in the state in which to live.

Summer is here, and Ada citizens are lucky to be in reach of good fishing. The city lake, Boggy and Blue, not to mention the other streams, are in easy reach of the city. A short time in the open with a rod and line will do you good.

Don't forget that we have several hundred visitors in Ada for the summer. Make the teachers feel at home.

The Evening News

Shawnee Morning News: Oklahoma City is starting out on a drive for charity. The city itself should be one of the beneficiaries as it needs the money to pay up its defaulted improvement bonds.

Vinita Daily Journal: This is the editor's birthday, but he hasn't won fame or reached the age that it is announced in the dispatches that he was on the job all day and did his usual amount of work.

Vinita Daily Journal: One hears considerable straw berry talk on the streets and in the stores, but let's have something more than talk. Organize that strawberry association and every grower will have a pocket full of coin at this time of year instead of going to the bank and getting a loan to tide him over.

Durant Democrat: Durant will soon be one of the best paved cities in the state. Work is now progressing on the twelve blocks around the normal, connecting Fifth and Sixth avenues, after which it is hoped to complete the paving on Sixth avenue. Durant is going forward at steady gain, no boom-time building, but a continual natural growth.

Daily Ardmore: Did you ever appreciate the fact that the retail merchant never goes on a strike? He may be selling his goods bought at a high price at a loss, but he supplies you with what you want at the time you need it and is always at his post of duty with his store open to serve you. It is a good idea to cultivate appreciation for those who keep the wheels of business turning.

Shawnee Morning News: With the improvement and marking of the Ozark Trail from Chandler through Shawnee and Tecumseh to Sulphur and the probable extension of the line south to Galveston, much of the California-bound travel that has always gone through Colorado will take this route, benefiting itself as well as the country through which it goes.

Less Government in Business

Whicha Daily Times: More business in government and less government in business is one of the slogans of the Harding administration and it's a good one to carry out. The administration has the opportunity to give working for both parts of this slogan. By putting into effect a budget system in the conduct of the governmental departments the administration can get more business into the government. By refusal to adopt a policy of a high protective tariff it can keep the government from interfering with business.

When it has taken into consideration that the tariff policy of the government changes on the average of every five years it can be seen that business hardly has time to become adjusted to one tariff policy before it is changed again. The people want neither a high tariff nor free trade. This is shown by the frequent reversals. Somewhere in between there ought to be some medium that would satisfy a majority all the time. If the Harding administration can find this medium it will have done a big thing toward taking the government out of business, even if this means that the government is setting into business.

MILLIONS ARE HANDLED BY INDIAN AGENCIES

(By the Associated Press)

MUSKOGEE, Okla., May 23.—Funds amounting to more than $200,000,000 in oil and gas transactions, coal and asphalt properties and annual payments have been handled by the Indian agency here during the course of the last 4 years, according to a report by Gabe E. Parker, retiring superintendent, before turning over the office of the Five Civilized Tribes to Victor M. Locke, Jr., his successor.

Indian money of the Five tribes alone now totals $9,250,000 on deposit in 260 banks of the state, according to the report.

"The legal department of the Tribes has passed upon 2,000 abstracts without loss to any investor and the oil and gas department has handled millions of dollars worth of leases through the sale of oil lands for the Indians and collection of royalties," the report declares.

It is brought out that the land division has appraised 441,197 acres of coal and asphalt mineral land in the Choctaw and Chickasaw Nations at $14,538,441.73 and sold 61,823 acres for $1,980,213.21. Aside from this, 913,201 acres of unallotted lands have been sold for $6,436,593 with 24,183 deeds for more than 2,000,000 acres prepared. The value of lands according to the report, involved in these deeds is $12,685,000.

"In carrying out the purpose of the Indian department to remove as soon as possible the restriction on Indians and place them in charge of their own affairs, in the last 6 years the 101,000 enrollment under restriction at that time has been brought down to about 20,000 allottees," according to the report.

Revenue derived from the coal and asphalt deposits, paid to the Indians at per capita payments, totals $15,000,000, figures show. However there is yet 2,219 town lots and 34,500 acres of coal and asphalt lands in the Choctaw and Chickasaw nations to be settled, the report says. These affairs of other tribes have been closed.

Touching upon the educational facilities of the Tribes, the report says that two exclusive tribal schools are being conducted by the Choctaws, one by the Chickasaws, three by the Creeks and one by the Seminoles. The government is conducting one school for the Cherokees.

The Five Civilized Tribes gave 4,000 Indians to the world war, the report adds, 200 of whom were killed in action on the battlefields of France. More than $110,000,000 in Liberty bonds has been subscribed by members of the Tribes.

The mailing division during the last six years handled 4,700,000 pieces of mail, with a monthly average of 65,000 pieces. This is exclusive of 2,000,000 vouchers, deeds and other forms of correspondence not listed in the department.

In The Oil Fields

The well near Stonewall in Coal county is drilling at 315 feet.

The Producers Oil Company is rigging up four miles southwest of Ada. They expect to be ready to spud in within a few days.

Lee & Smith, in the Francis field finished the rigging up and spudded in Saturday on the George Wade, Jr., farm in section 3-4-7.

Activity in the Steedman field is becoming more active. The Daokla Oil company is reported to be getting ready for more wells. These wells are shallow, but they are paying, it is said.

Montrose Oil and Producers company and H. E. Morris have shut down indefinitely at 1650 feet in section 20-5-8 in the Allen field. It is generally understood that operations will be resumed in the fall.

The same company is cleaning out the hole on the Bill Chism farm in section 3-4-7, this being Chism No. 1. This well has been producing for some time, making around 20 barrels a day. Recently production had dropped as a result of foreign matter getting in the bottom of the hole. By cleaning it out, the owners expect to bring it back to the original producing stage.

PAWHUSKA—Forty-seven tracts of 7,450 acres of Osage Indian land will be thrown open for lease at the next sale here June 14, according to announcement from the secretary of the interior.

McALESTER—The state convention of the P. O. W. Club in Oklahoma will be held here November 7 for the purpose of completing discussions taken up at the district conventions. Motion picture censorship stands out as one of the topics to be considered.

Has now been claimed that the lobbyists are climbing the capitol steps for the sake of exercise.

A Message From the Sky. saw a blossom wave today
upon a bough and far away saw the slender tree tops bend and bow and fret before the wind.

saw a lazy crow today flying round and far away saw a fleecy cloud go by and lost itself far down the sky.

and lose itself and then the sky just going on and on and I in vain a tryin' to look through the beauty of that silent blue.

ph we can see the buds and trees and birds and clouds and all of these but who can pierce the balmy fair blue sky that steals away up there?

And would that we could put a sky about our cares where piercing eye could see in us but lovely things and feel through us a joy and sing.

Today the rain-path down we hie Will be a sun trail by-and-by if we but clothe our cares all through

With just a bit of God's own blue.

HOT SHOTS

FROM THE BATTERY OF JOSEPHUS DANIELS

"I am not a pessimist where Americans are concerned. All this appearance of irritation, of disunity of anger and recrimination is a surface effect. Deep down in the heart of America is the heroic heart of Valley Forge and Gettysburg. A little study of comparative values is something that will help us all."

"We do not ask where an American was born. We care not what his creed or what his estate. The supreme test of an American is:
Does he love this country better than any other country under the sun? Will he gladly give his life to preserve the liberty which has blessed mankind?"

"Men who dug trenches under the fire of the enemy, stood on destroyers unafraid when struck by torpedoes, endured privation in armies and toiled to weariness on farm and in factory to win the war—these men will have little patience with the how-not-to-do-its and better-stick-to-the-old-policy apostles and apologists. They have no patience with the men who would build high walls to make an isolated America or turn national wealth into selfish channels. They stand for America, that real America where all men shall have equal opportunity, and where no man can take from the mouth of labor the bread it has earned."

"The war made the world safe for democracy. It remains to make democracy safe for the world by defining its ends, clarifying its purposes, and enacting into law its essential ideals."

"America denies with the passion of freedom that from on high comes any appointed task at hammer or saw or throne, or that men are cribbled or confined in any sphere of action. We profoundly believe here that men are created equal, and that doors of opportunity and advancement must open to all alike."

"Progress has always been, is now and always must be the hope

This lovely creation as done by Joseph in the new Marabout silk is attracting no end of attention on Fifth Avenue on account of the material as well as the style.

of labor. Any condition of life that forbids struggle and aspiration is a condition that bears most heavily upon the mass of people, for it dooms them to an endurance of evil that might otherwise be attacked successfully."

"America has never drawn the sword except for liberty; it has never sheathed it except in victory. Let us lend no ear to the whispering of pessimism or the doubts of disloyal-ty. Let us never doubt that the clouds will break and enduring peace and prosperity will shine upon mankind as the result of the courage and faith of valorous men."

"To print the truth, to give constructive criticism, to grasp and properly interpret intellectually the tremendous import of movements in thought as well as in action is a supreme duty of the press. The press is sometimes the echo of passing public opinion, sometimes the creator of sound public sentiment, and sometimes the voice of the well-considered and resolute will of the people."

"Too long our country has defied the Biblical injunction which says a man should not live too himself. It is as true of nations as of individuals. No nation can live unto itself.
The ancients taught that oceans and seas were made to separate nations.
We of this day know that they were made to unite them."

"The brightest quip of the presidential campaign, one political observer wrote last fall, 'was Secretary Daniels' remark that 'the Republican majority in the Senate is out on bail.'"

"The answer of youth to the challenge, 'Live upon heights!' is:
'Show me a man of my temperament who has climbed the Alps, whose life was so wholesome and valiant as to win for him a place with the immortals. Let me see if he had temptations like those which assail me. Tell me how he overcame them. Then and then only will I believe it possible for me to be master of appetite, to put aside selfish ambition and be able to emulate his virtues.'"

MUSKOGEE—The board of education has taken under consideration the sale of $250,000 worth of school bonds for the erection of new buildings and improvements.

Vinita—A bill has been introduced in congress seeking a German cannon of the late war for display

Still Searching For Pot of Gold

Old Settlers Say No One Has Succeeded

TANLEQUAH, Okla., May 23.—The search for the ever elusive pot of gold in the traditionally old hills of fame of an equally old Indian tribe, the Cherokee, goes merrily on, even in this modern age when "luck sticks," "divining rods" and witchcraft have been universally given the discount.

Today, in the old, ramshackle, weather-beaten villages of ancient Cherokee forefathers there are those who will ply the search for treasure, inspired by a word or knowing wink from those old remaining brethren of the tribe that there is still here and there a pot of gold hidden by ancient tribesmen that has never been recovered.

The wrecked and dilapidated condition of many of the cabins occupied scores of years ago by Cherokees who then are alleged to have secreted great handfuls of gold show outward appearances of these hunts.

Twentieth century treasure hunters have not alone confined their tasks to ransacking existing remains of these old adobe. The sites upon which some of the cabins stood show signs of what pictures portray as a field line with trenches and excavations in many places resemble holes inflicted there by the bursting of giant missiles of destruction.

Thus far, to the knowledge of chieftains and early settlers of the Cherokee nation, there have been no large fruits for the hunters who have scoured and torn buildings and earth in pursuit of these treasures, although the spirit still survives, though perhaps less enthusiastic.

In the beginning, old citizens tell, the stories of the treasure here circulated due to the fact that gold was hidden because there were no banks or places of trust for their wealth. Almost invariably, the story goes, these planters of fortune later were stricken and died without divulging their secret.

Evidences here and there in the nation today that the earth may hold many iron pots and kettles well filled with gold and silver coins are to be found in the innumerable large holes and excavations, destruction of foundations and chimneys, undermining of homes and old stumps and trees, thought to mark the location of treasure. Adventurers that come and go are followed by others.

Larger holes may be seen on some of the isolated hill tops and even graves have been desecrated by some seekers following a clue. "Divining rods," forked switches, finger rings attached to springs and iron balls and pieces of wood and bottles full of queer and strange ingredients all have been used as "charms" in the effort to locate the treasure, inhabitants declare.

The treasure, even the accepted as mythical, that is most often mentioned as once having been unearthed here is the "Cherokee Money." According to the tale there was buried during the troublous years of the early sixties "three big kegs full of gold and silver coins," amounting in value to many thousands of dollars. It is explained that the near approach of a large body of armed men caused the money to be buried and thereafter it was never unearthed.

Those having the burial in charge were killed, with the exception of one, who, soon after the termination of the war, fell ill and died without having detailed diagrams of where the treasure was buried. Other believers in the theory of hidden gold attach a story to a certain heap of earth and gravel which had been thrown open when a storm unrooted a big oak tree, disclosing traces and a supposed location of a vast treasure. At intervals of a few months three soldiers of fortune delved deep into the ground, turning every foot of soil, but finding nothing but clay.

SWEET POTATOES ARE EASILY CURED HERE

W. R. Riddle, who lives ten miles south east of Ada in the Union Valley community, has specimens of sweet potatoes which went through the air curing process and are yet perfectly sound and ready for use. This, Mr. Riddle believes, proves that the climate of Pontotoc County is unusually suited to curing this crop.

Potato men point out that under ordinary weather conditions heat has to be applied to sweet potato curing houses for from one to three weeks. After going through the heat, they can be kept until the next summer. But Mr. Riddle cured these potatoes in a regular curing house with out any fire, thus reducing considerably the cost of production.

Mr. Riddle lives in the famous sweet potato region where the growers have formed a co-operative marketing association and sell in quantity.

STEPS TAKEN TO PREVENT ATHLETICS BEING OVERWORK

ANN ARBOR, Mich., May 23.—Michigan is one of the first universities in the country to take steps toward protecting high school athletes from injuring themselves by overwork in interscholastic meets. Such a step was recommended at a recent convention of intercollegiate track coaches and Michigan will put the system into effect during the Michigan interscholastic to be held in Ann Arbor May 20-21.

Coaches at the University of Michigan have agreed that many promising high school athletes have been permanently injured for collegiate track work by being entered in too many events while in high school. The rules to be followed at the coming meet here are as follows:

Contestants in 440-yard dash trial and the half-mile May 20 cannot compete in any other track event that day.

Contestants in the 100-yard dash, 120-yard hurdles and 220-yard hurdles May 20 can compete in only one other track event that day, exclusive of the 440 and half mile.

Contestants in the mile run May 21 cannot compete in any other track event that day.

All contestants are eligible for the relay May 21 except contestants in the mile and the finals of the half-mile and the 440-yard dash.

No restrictions are placed on contestants in field events.

A large entry list is expected for the interscholastic. Last year high schools from New York, Ohio, Michigan, Illinois, Iowa and Oklahoma competed. The meet was won by University High of Chicago.

OKEMAH—The last cotton gin closed May 14, setting the highest record in number of bales of any year in its history. Nearly 12,000 bales were shipped, compared with the usual average of from 6,000 to 7,000 bales.

MUSKOGEE—According to attorneys for the Creek Indians, two large oil companies have agreed to pay the Creek nation $50,000 as a settlement for the rich Mundy Yawee Creek Indian allotment near Cushing.

Appropriations Are Largest Ever Made By the Legislature

Except appropriating nearly three million dollars more than any prior legislature the session that adjourned finally Saturday night did almost nothing of any importance, according to Luther Harrison, who returned Sunday evening from Oklahoma City where he had been attending the extraordinary session of the state lawmaking body.

"The total appropriations for the two sessions, the regular and the extraordinary, will total about $20,800,000," said Mr. Harrison. "Two years ago we appropriated only $18,000,000. The passing of these money bills took up practically all the time of the extra session and nothing else of importance was considered. Nearly all the bills of the regular session died unsigned when the House adjourned April 2, so that the net result of nearly five months of legislating is the biggest appropriation budget ever passed in this state and a consequent increase in taxation.

"It would be difficult to justify the action of the legislature in passing the appropriation bills if it did pass. While an increase in the cost of government is to be expected and will continue as long as our state and its institutions continue to grow, it cannot be said that the general appropriation bills were either fair or logical. Some departments and schools were treated liberally, if not extravagantly. Others were seriously crippled if not ruined. For instance the institutional bill as it came from the House of Representatives gave the negro school at Langston $23,000 for maintenance, while it gave the normals at Ada, Durant, and Weatherford only $22,600 for maintenance. In other words, a republican house gave a negro school with an enrollment of about 400 more money for maintenance than it gave three white schools with an enrollment for the fiscal year of 3,100.

"The session just ended was a nightmare to every decent man who served in it. However, the legislators have this for their consolation—they asked for the job of lawmaking and have no call to complain."

MINISTER'S ADVICE
BLESSING TO HER

"I had long thought that no medicine could do me any good; but Tanlac has done for me in just a little while what I had tried for years to get other medicines to do and my enthusiasm for it is unbounded." was the statement made recently by Mrs. G. M. Kelley, wife of G. M. Kelley, well-known employee of the West Virginia Pulp & Paper Co., residing at 420 Highland St., Covington, Va.

My stomach pained and worried me all the time for four years and everything I ate gave me awful cramps. At times I couldn't retain a bite of food, and even a crust of dry bread would nearly throw me into spasms and I had such gagging spells I was afraid I would burst a blood vessel. I was so nervous I couldn't sleep, and my forehead, neck and back hurt awfully. Some times I couldn't straighten my neck, and my back was drawn so at times I couldn't stand up straight. Finally I got so bad off I just had to quit doing any of my housework and spent most of my time lying down.

Well, after everything that seemed possible was done for me, the Rev. W. C. Richardson, a Methodist minister, told us he thought Tanlac was what I needed. So I started taking it and while on my first bottle I go so much better that I knew Tanlac was just what I had been needing, and now I'm in such fine health I'm really enjoying life for the first time in years. I have a wonderful appetite, never have a touch of indigestion, and can keep at my housework all day long without sitting down, except at meal time, and still feel good. Tanlac is simply grand."

The Women's Auxiliary of the Presbyterian church, Divisions No. 1 will have a parcel post and cake sale Thursday afternoon, May 26 at the Hensler and Story Drug Store. You are cordially invited to come out and look over the articles that are for sale. 5-21-3td.

Facts About the Counties

Each day some facts will be printed about an Oklahoma county in their alphabetical order.

COAL—The county lies principally in the lower Arkansas valley region with a portion in the extreme southwestern part situated in the region of the Arbuckle mountains. It has an area of 336,000 acres of which 200,215 acres is in farms and 116,839 in cultivation. The principal crop is cotton.

The surface as a whole is quite rough although there are a few large flat areas. The large creek valleys are locally 3 or 4 miles wide, the drainage to the south and east is through Muddy Boggy and Clear Boggy creeks.

Farming, stockraising and mining constitute the principal industries of the county. Farming is probably the principal industry. Considerable of the more hilly land is devoted to pasture. The southeastern part of the county is in the coal district and mining is carried on extensively around Coalsate, Lehigh and Midway.

Cotton is by far the chief crop with corn, oats and wheat following. Coal is the principal mineral in the county and is mined extensively. There is some timber in practically all portions of the county and consists principally of oak, blackjack, elm and ash.

Branch lines of the larger railroads traverse the county although there are no main lines. The highways are not in very good condition due to the fact that they are seldom worked.

Educational facilities are fairly adequate, 57 schools being in the county. The average rainfall for the last 5 years is 38.01 inches.

SHORT NEWS STORIES
ARTICLES OF INTEREST PICK-ED UP AROUND TOWN

Deaths.

Two deaths are reported by the undertakers today:

C. C. NORTON, son of J. P. Norton, died at the family home west of the city yesterday, after suffering several months with tuberculosis. The funeral services will be held at Rosedale cemetery, where the burial will take place this afternoon.

MISS VIRGINIA LLOYD of Oklahoma City, died at her home here yesterday and the remains were shipped to Ada, arriving here last night. The body was taken to Francis where the funeral services and burial will take place today.

Pictures of Asher Bridge

Those who attended the American theatre Saturday afternoon and night were given the first opportunity of seeing the dedication program of the new Asher bridge in pictures. The picture was taken by the Pathe company and was shown in connection with their regular weekly features.

Many interesting scenes of the bridge, crowds in attendance, parking place for the cars and the prominent men in the program were shown. This is probably the first time that a picture so nearly affecting the city of Ada has ever been shown here.

Scouts to Cemetery.

The Ada Boy Scouts, under the auspices of the Cemetery association will meet promptly at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning, May 24, at the City Hall, where conveyances will be provided to the Rosedale cemetery. The scouts will put in the day improving and beautifying the cemetery.

Those who can be asked to bring seed of any small flowers that can be transplanted, and more especially Shasta Daisies, as the association is planning to plant a hedge around the front fence. The scouts may be assured that plenty of refreshments will be on hand and a big dinner is being prepared by the ladies of the association for those who work.

For further information call either of the committee, Mesdames S. P. Rose, W. B. Jones and Miss Sallie Fulton.

Cars Around the Normal

In five minutes time last evening between the hours of 8 and 9, 60 cars passed around the driveway around the Normal building, 10 turned off at either of the side streets and six turning at the end of the street, making a total of 78 cars that made an appearance at the entrance of the Normal school building in this time.

Of the 78 cars counted, 15 made the second appearance, 5 coming back as high as four times. The cars contained from one to eight passengers, were of all makes and models.

New City Ordinance

The latest city ordinance that has been passed by the board of commissioners for the city of Ada is an ordinance granting the M. K. & T. railway company the right to build additional side tracks for the accommodation of wholesale and industrial propositions.

It has been passed, signed and filed by the city commissioners and is now in effect. The railroad company will probably begin the extension of the tracks in a short time and the laying of the new side tracks.

Building Permits.

Only one building permit was issued today, granting S. P. Petty the right to construct a residence of concrete blocks. The building will cost $1000 and will be located in the north part of the original town site.

Building permits issued since January 1 now total 118, or nearly one permit each day, as 143 days of this year are already passed. This average is expected to increase shortly and the opinion is advanced by the lumbermen and contractors that building will be on a big boom by the end of summer.
